Commas in Introductory Elements

Use a comma to set off a mild exclamation, such as _well, oh,_ or, _why,_ at the beginning of a sentence. Other introductory words such as _yes_ and _no_ are also set off with commas.

Practice Sentences

*Example 1: No, I'm not busy tonight.

*Example 2: Well, let's ask Sharon to come along.

*Example 3: At the side of the road, she came upon a furry creature.

*Example 4: Whenever I go to the bank, I stop at my aunt's office.

*Example 5: Lying on the ground, Roberto admired the clouds in the sky.

*Example 6: Yes, I know they talk too much!

*Example 7: At the age of 23, Mr. Thomas became a teacher.